Oryctos, the official EAVP journal, publishes original contributions on all aspects of vertebrate palaeontology.

There is no word limit for submitted papers

- Monographs are acceptable
- No page charges apply
- A high quality of publications and illustrations is required
- All manuscripts are subject to at least two peer-reviews
- Accepted manuscripts will be published within a few months
- Free PDF copies of all publications are available soon

The European Association of Vertebrate Palaeontologists, founded in 2003, is a non-profit organisation with the goal of uniting East and West European VP people in one organisation.

The main objectives of the EAVP are to:

- Encourage contacts and collaboration between European scientists
- Maintain a plurality of research methods
- Launch and support international projects with an European contribution
- Encourage, assist and support VP students
- Set up and organise research funds
- Host the annual EAVP Meeting in different European countries

By July 2008, our fast-growing association already had members from 18 countries - why don't you join us?
